Sakura was a young girl who once lived in a small village hidden in the Japanese highlands. She was a creative and curious young woman who loved reading fairy tales. Her favorite tale was about a secret forest home to talking animals and fairies.

Sakura headed out on her bicycle to explore the nearby forest one lovely morning. A small, bright light could be seen dancing among the trees as she rode along the narrow, curving road. She followed the light out of curiosity and came to an open space. A big, old tree with golden leaves stood in the middle of the space.

Sakura gently walked up to the tree. A tiny, wingless creature jumped out from behind the tree suddenly. A fairy was present! The tree was a magical door to a magic land. The fairy introduced herself as Hana.

Sakura waited for a second before entering the door, her heart beating. The surroundings totally changed when she entered. The forest became greener and shinier. Delicious aromas filled the air. Sakura had entered Fairyland, a location that was hidden from the human world.

Sakura and Hana set out on an exciting journey together. They came across kind-hearted creatures, and talking animals. Each species had a special tale to tell Sakura and important life lessons to tell her.

They eventually arrived at the Fairy Queen's palace after days of travel. The wise and kind queen told stories of cooperation, kindness, and bravery. She talked about the value of saving nature and the connection between people and the creatures of Fairyland.

Sakura said goodbye to the Fairy Queen and Hana, and then returned through the door to find herself back in the same open space. As Sakura hopped on her bike and rode back to her village, the old tree's golden leaves said goodbye in a soft voice.

Sakura was eager to tell her friends and family about her fantastic journey. She came to understand that the tales that she heard in Fairyland were based in the magic that lives in people's hearts and the beauties of nature.

Rika and Emma are at the airport.

Rika: Hi, Emma. Are you excited about our trip to Kyoto?

Emma: Hey, Rika. I can't wait to explore the beautiful city. Have you packed everything?

Rika: Yes, I made a checklist and packed my clothes and travel documents. Did you bring your tablet?

Emma: (). Is this your first time flying?

Rika: No, I've flown a few times before. But I still get a bit nervous during takeoff. How about you?

Emma: Same here. Takeoffs make me a little nervous too. But once we're up in the air, I feel fine. Do you know which gate we need to go to?

Rika: (). It's just a short walk from here. Have you got any snacks for the flight?

Emma: (). Do you need any help with your bags?

Rika: Thanks, Emma. (). Oh, don't forget to put your phone on airplane mode.

Emma: Thanks for reminding me. I almost forgot. I'll switch it to airplane mode right now. By the way, have you decided what we should do on our first day in Kyoto?

Rika: (). I'm sure we'll have an amazing time in Kyoto!
